

“Music has always been a passion of mine. My roots are country, my soul is Blues's and my heart says southern rock.”

-Jerrod Campbell

Jerrod Campbell, the son of a retired Marine, hails from Anniston, Al. Around 2000 his mother became terminally ill and Jerrod found comfort in music, this is when he first started playing guitar. He spent a most of his time just learning how to play. Three years later he started to get serious, learning how to cover songs, playing with groups and soloing. While in Anniston he played with the group RPM and also started the duo act The HazBenz.

In 2014 Jerrod moved to Pensacola, FL and soon became a regular at the Blues Society of Northwest Florida weekly jams. In 2015 he created the duo, sometimes trio act, JJ's Revival. JJ's Revival has played from Milton to Foley, Pensacola Beach to Orange Beach, and all places in between. He also performed for a brief time in 2016 with the duo Whiskey Drawl. One of Jerrod's primary goals in life is to improve his music skills and advance his music career.
